Yokohama IETF, IAB Plenary Session

General Architectural and Policy Considerations

- This draft was written as a follow-up to the document on IAB Architectural and Policy Considerations on OPES.

- ”This document suggests general architectural and policy questions to be addressed in our work in the IETF.”

- The document consists of a number of questions that we should ask in our work. They generally boil down to the following:
  - Has the larger picture been considered?

General Architectural and Policy Considerations

- This document is almost ready for Last Call.
  - Left to do: To add a paragraph to Section 10 about the dangers of excessive choice in protocols.

- I am not here to present the draft to the plenary.
  - I am here to ask people to read the draft, if they are so inclined, and to give feedback.
  - And to give you fair warning that this might soon become an RFC...
